

SANTA CLAUS came early to the First Western Bank & Trust Co. here and left each teller a red and white cap. Santa, in this case, is E. R. Mitchell, bank manager, who originated the idea as a promotion for the bank's Christmas Club for 1957. The hats were made locally by the Susie-Marie Dress Shop. Each teller also sports a badge advertising the Christmas Club. The badges were made by Maggie Ascher.

Gift-Giving Party Set For County Hospital

This Christmas will be a little brighter for patients in the communicable disease ward at Los Angeles County Hospital, thanks to Sierra Madre school children and the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber and children from the Sierra Madre School, St. Rita's and the Ascension Day School have planned a gift-giving party at 7:30 p.m. this Friday in front of the Nativity Scene in Kersting Square.

Boxes in which the gifts will be packed will be placed in the square at 5:30 p.m. The Little German Band will provide music starting at 7:30 p.m.

All packages, which will be accepted from all local residents in addition to those from school children, should be gift wrapped and marked as to whether they are for boys, girls, adults or babies. The gifts need not be expensive, but they should be in good condition.

Books, toys, dolls, stationery and other items will be welcome. Packages, however, should not contain food of any kind, including candy, or breakable material.

The gifts will be delivered to the hospital either on Saturday or Monday by members of the Sierra Madre PTA.

Robert H. Green, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is in charge of arrangements. He is being assisted by Mrs. Charles Fretz, PTA president.

Displaced Family Adopted by Church

The Ernst Schrenders Peters family, who are Dutch citizens displaced from Indonesia, will arrive in Sierra Madre between Christmas and New Year's.

The Peters family, with three children aged 5, 13 and 14, have been "adopted" by the Sierra Madre Congregational Church.

The church learned of this family through correspondence between Mrs. Al Paus of Sierra Madre and Mrs. Peters. The two were acquaintances by mail for almost 10 years.

Members and friends of the church have gathered furnishings for the house in which the newly-arrived family will live, as well as food to stock their cupboards. Consenso, one of the active women's organizations, under the leadership of Mrs. Paul Kline, is heading up arrangements for the family.

To cover some of the necessary expenses, which include rent, perishable food and equipment not otherwise obtainable, Consenso is sponsoring a theater party at the Town Hall Theater, 805 E. Green St., Pasadena, on Dec. 14.

The play is "King of Hearts," suitable for adults and children. Curtain time is 8:30 and tickets at $1.50 are available at Hartman's Drug Store and through the church.

Father of Local Residents Dies In San Bernardino

Joseph F. Broce, the father of Mrs. Peggy Lusman and Mrs. William Gage, both of Sierra Madre, died in San Bernardino Hospital Tuesday of a heart ailment. He was 83 years old.

Mr. Broce, whose home was in Yucaipa, was a resident of California for about 52 years. He was a native of Tennessee. Formerly a machinist, Mr. Broce had been retired for the past 20 years. Services will be held today in Yucaipa, with interment in Rose Hill Cemetery, Whittier.

Survivors, in addition to Mrs. Lusman and Mrs. Gage, are two daughters, Mrs. Buah Vincent, of North Hollywood, and Mrs. Anna Harris, of Los Angeles; and two sons, Leon Broce, of Oakland, and Earl Broce, of Kernville.

Variety to Mark Police Auction

Wanna buy a bolo knife cheap? How about a laundry bag and its contents?

These are just some of the items which will be auctioned off as unclaimed property by the Police Department along with bicycles and many other items.

Or maybe you'd prefer a couple of "sturdy A frames," or a "grader caterpillar"? These will be sold by the city along with office and streets equipment as surplus property. The times and places of the sales will be announced later.

Post Office Again Open Saturday

The Post Office will be open again all day this Saturday to help speed Christmas mailings. Postmaster Charles E. Louk announced yesterday.

Mr. Louk urged area residents to mail their packages as soon as possible to insure delivery before Christmas.

Baldwin Project Planned

Construction of the Baldwin Ave. storm drain may get under way by Feb. 1, City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington said this week.

The Army Corps of Engineers will advertise for bids on Dec. 20 for the project, which will proceed along Baldwin from Foothill Blvd. to the Carter Debris Basin in Carter Canyon.

During work on the project, which is expected to take almost a year, parts of Baldwin Ave. will be closed to all but foot traffic, Mr. Bevington said.

He stated that the city will seek to gain the most adequate contract controls possible over procedures requiring blocking of streets. At no time will Sierra Madre Blvd. be closed off completely, as was the case with the Lima St. drain, he said.

Concurrent with work on Baldwin Ave. will be construction of a connecting drain from Foothill Blvd. in a northeasterly direction through Arcadia to Orange Grove. Both drains, together with the recently-completed Lima St. project, are part of the multi-million dollar Arcadia Wash System.

The city will bear only the cost of constructing catch basins along the drain route, Mr. Bevington said. Removal of the crown on Baldwin Ave. will be done at a later date.

Freeway Route Expected To Avoid Sierra Madre

Policemen's Desk Goes A-Wandering

Once upon a time there was a desk—a big, heavy, roll-top desk.

Belonged to the Sierra Madre Police Department. Then one day it turned up missing, and reports of the "theft" brought a rash of pink policemen's faces. Here is what really happened:

The big old desk was stored in the City Hall basement, as surplus property. Also in the basement are the headquarters of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Crew.

After moving the desk 'seventy-seven times to move stuff into their meeting room, a couple of mountaineers held a brief conversation.

"Think anyone wants that old desk?"

"Nah, who could want that old desk?"

"Fallin' apart anyway."

"Yeah."

"Let's go."

"Yup."

So the desk went for a ride into the canyon, and it looked like its time had come. But before pitching it into the mountain wilderness, the men stopped to pass the time of night with a pack station buddy.

"What you guys going to do with that old desk?"

"Heave it into the canyon."

"Geez, don't do that. I can use it."

So the old desk got a reprieve.

Then from the Police Department came the spine-chilling report: "One of our desks is missing."

Back went the mountaineers. Zoom! Up the mountain. Here came the old desk. Zoom! Down the mountain. Today it is resting again in the City Hall basement, little the worse for wear after some fast and furious carting by the mountaineers who, by the way, prefer to remain nameless.

Richard Vectors, drapery shop on N. Baldwin, won first prize in the merchants' Christmas decorating contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Second and third prizes were won by Arnold's Hardware and Younglar's, respectively.

City Declares Holiday Dec. 24

The City Council Tuesday night declared Dec. 24 a holiday for city employees.

Excepted from the resolution were members of the police department and certain employees necessary to maintain essential services. These persons will receive compensatory time off at a later date.

No business will be transacted by the city on the 24th.

Playground Program Set For Holidays

Students will congregate on the Sierra Madre School playground during the first week of Christmas vacation in a program designed to accommodate all ages.

A variety of activities for pupils from the second grade and up will be offered Dec. 17-21 from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Boys can participate in the sport of their choice, including volleyball, tetherball, football, and basketball, and will be grouped according to age, Director Chalmers Cartwright announced.

A craft program for both boys and girls will also be supervised on the grounds during the same hours.

No advance registration is required, Mr. Cartwright said, and students from all Sierra Madre schools are welcome. The program is sponsored by the Recreation Department.

Scouters Elect New Officers at District Dinner

Eighty-four Scouters and their wives assembled recently at Carpenters Restaurant in Arcadia to hold the annual Mt. Wilson District dinner meeting.

Sea Scouts from Ship 391 presented the colors, and the invocation was given by Bishop Eric Smith of the East Pasadena Ward, L.D.S. Church. After dinner, District Chairman Marcus Woodward as master of ceremonies reported on the Mt. Wilson District, stating it now has 140 more boys than on last Jan. 1.

John Senour, chairman of the Nominating Committee, announced that it had nominated Arthur Mann as chairman of the district for the coming year and Herman Ohs as vice chairman. They were elected unanimously. Mr. Senour also recommended Norman Shanks for consideration as district commissioner for the coming year.

William Morse, vice president of the San Gabriel Council, Boy Scouts of America, installed Arthur Mann as district chairman.

Ray Bowman, leadership training chairman, presented a training award to Walter Goodwin, Scoutmaster of Troop 376 of the Church of the Ascension, and District Commissioner Reg Barrett presented Awards of Merit to Bert Embree and William Newbery, assistant neighborhood commissioners, for the district.

Accordion selections were played by Ralph Gann, cubmaster for Pack 383.

Sierra Madrean Wins Promotion

BRUCE H. ARCHIBALD has been promoted to personnel man third class, USN. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Archibald, 262 Manzanita Ave., Sierra Madre.

Before entering the service in June 1953, Archibald graduated from John Marshall High School and Pasadena City College and was employed by Bruce Hill Inc., in Glendale. He is presently stationed in Hawaii.

Tourney Set Saturday for Youngsters

A tennis tournament for children taking lessons in the park will be held Saturday starting at 8:30 a.m.

The tourney for children 13 and under is scheduled from 8:30 to noon, and children 13 and over will play from noon to 4:30.

Classes at the city park have been sponsored by the Sierra Madre Tennis Club and the city Recreation Department. The children have received instruction from Mrs. Paul Landwehr, who has been in charge of the program, and from a representative of the club.

Saturday's tournament will be a round-robin affair, with trophies donated by the Tennis Club.

Children who have completed the course of instruction will receive certificates from the Recreation Department.

FLIES TO BOSTON

William H. Estes, 159 W. Montecito, flew to Boston recently to bring his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ira M. Cushing, back to Sierra Madre.

Most Likely Course Will Follow Foothill

The most likely route of the proposed Foothill Freeway will miss Sierra Madre and proceed parallel to and south of Foothill Ave. through Arcadia, it was learned this week.

Although the decision is far from final, the "preferred study route" of the State Division of Highways lies between Foothill and the Santa Fe tracks, running eastward from Michillinda Ave.

The route would pass north of Santa Anita Race Track, curve easterly along Santa Anita Wash between Arcadia and Monrovia, turn easterly to pass between the Monrovia business district and Live Oak Cemetery and continue through the southern portion of Duarte.

FROM THERE the route would cross the San Gabriel River north of Santa Fe Dam, continue easterly just north of First St. and south of Aerojet in Azusa, then swing south of Glendora's South Hills and continue easterly to the San Bernardino County line.

The "preferred study route" was outlined Monday night at a meeting of engineering and planning staffs from San Gabriel Valley cities with officials of the highway division.

Although Edward E. Telford, assistant state highway engineer in the Los Angeles office, emphasized that the "preferred study route" was only a suggestion, observers pointed out that the recommendation of the highway division planners almost always has been the route accepted in the past, sometimes with minor modifications.

ONE OF THE SEVERAL routes strongly considered had swung along Orange Grove Ave. in Sierra Madre.

Mr. Telford pointed out that such a route, along with others, was less desirable from a traffic engineering viewpoint because of the comparatively small population of the foothills area.

Similarly, he said, a more southerly route than that suggested would lie too close to the San Bernardino Freeway to draw maximum use from the motorway public.

Engineering and planning staffs from the cities involved were asked to study the proposed route and bring suggestions for modification to a meeting Jan. 9.

A NUMBER OF STEPS remain before the route is definitely accepted. If substantial agreement is reached with the cities involved, the proposed route will be submitted to the state engineer. Then follow meetings with various state agencies and public meetings with the people and communities involved.

After these steps, the state engineer reports to the highway division, following which more meetings will be scheduled.

Although highway officials hoped the freeway could be finished in five to seven years, Mr. Telford thought seven to 10 years a more likely completion date.

He said the 17-mile link would cost about $75,000,000 and would be financed 90 per cent by federal bonds under the recently adopted federal highway program.

Local Man To Address Dental Unit

Dr. John L. Woehler of 718 Manzanita will present two papers today at the annual meeting of the Los Angeles Dental Society's annual meeting in Hotel Statler.

Dr. Woehler, an authority on dental economics and practice managements, will speak on "Integration of the Office Team" and "Patterns of Successful Dental Practice."

Since retiring from a 25-year practice in 1950, Dr. Woehler has devoted his time to post-graduate teaching and research in dental education and dental economics. He has spoken before dental groups throughout the country and in Canada and Hawaii, and has lectured at major universities in seven states.

Dr. Woehler also serves as a California State Examiner for teachers of dental assistants, and has served as dental management consultant in many private offices.

PARK PROPOSAL

The Los Angeles City Recreation and Park Commission recently voted unanimously to request the City Council to approve the placement of a bond proposal for additional recreation and park facilities on the ballot for the municipal election slated April 2, 1957.

A Pink and White Holiday

Not everybody, as the letter on this page indicates, is satisfied with Sierra Madre's array of pink and white Christmas trees. In and green and red barrels, yet.

But even if the somewhat bizarre arrangement offends your artistic sensibilities, you must admit that Sierra Madre is unique. It would also be helpful to realize some of the problems the Chamber of Commerce faced when the question of Christmas decorations was approached.

In past years, each merchant was responsible for decorating his own tree. This resulted in a rather shabby conglomeration of lights, tinsel and Christmas ornaments hung on spindly trees that should have been left in Oregon.

Even the businessman who took pains to produce an attractive tree often woke the next morning to find his pride and joy in the state of a partially plucked chicken. Too many youngsters, it seemed, had itchy fingers, and in at least one instance a tree was snatched bodily from its barrel. (A tree-napping has already occurred this year.)

It was decided, therefore, not to decorate the trees again but to paint them. This led to a prolonged debate over color. Some wanted pink, some white and others held out for polka-dot.

This indicated the necessity of a compromise. Ergo! Alternate pink and white Christmas trees. And since the trees had to be anchored firmly to the pavement, the same barrels that had been used in past years were taken out of storage and pressed once again into service.

Perhaps the barrels should have been repainted, but that would have led to another debate and Christmas may have been over by the time a decision was reached.

The Chamber also considered stringing Christmas banners across the streets, but the cost would have been staggering to an organization not blessed with a large bank account. And surely even the least observant must realize that the Chamber here has a long way to go before it can be enthroned among the "feetly rich."

Seriously, by any past comparison, the Chamber of Commerce this year has done an excellent job. Not only do we have pink Christmas trees, but we have the Nativity Scene, Christmas music, a gaily lighted pepper tree, Santa Claus, a little German band and some type of Christmas activity every Friday night.

And all this has been done—at a not inconsiderable cost—to make your Christmas shopping more pleasant.

To my mind, at least, the Chamber has succeeded in establishing an aura of Christmas in our downtown shopping area, particularly at night. As a native of the East, where the elements often cooperate to make December more in keeping with the conventional atmosphere, I consider this no mean achievement.—H.W.E.

Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

In my youth I met Arthur Brisbane, who might be called the father of the modern column. He told a small group of us a story I think everyone who yearns to express himself in writing should know.

"Never but once," he said, "did I attempt to write fiction. That time it was the story of a poet so gifted and brilliant that he was sure he was going to give the world immortal thoughts which would go on echoing down the corridors of time."

"He was so inspired and confident that he induced a starchy-eyed girl to marry him as soon as they were out of college, and they set up housekeeping in a flat in Greenwich Village in which he was surrounded by the books he loved."

"AS TIME PASSED his family grew and his patrimony diminished until he had several children and no money, but the only way in which he had gone up in the world was from the second floor front apartment to the garret floor rear. Though he could find no flaw in his poems, they were all rejected by the editors."

"One day, alone in his study, he was tearing his hair because he couldn't understand his failure, and also because he couldn't afford to have it cut. There was a timid knock at the door and his wife opened it. 'I'm sorry to disturb you, dear,' she said, 'but the children are crying for food. They're so hungry, they'll eat anything, even spinach.'"

"With a wild cry of anguish, the poet leaped to his feet, crying: 'Get out before I go mad!' She fled and he shut the door."

"THEN HE STRODE to and fro, wondering how he could please the editors who were starving him, and hating them because he knew he couldn't. Then one of his bitter thoughts, straight from his heart, took form as a line of poetry."

"It was so good it almost made him forget his grief as he began composing other that they always have lines to go with it. Soon he something to say."

Around and About With Edward Lloyd Voorhees

Because of my pleasant association with friends, and in spite of the continual clammy weather of mid-February in Rome, I left that city with reluctance.

As I expected, Naples weather was worse, and I had no friends there. Although my hotel was a good one on the via Pantheon overlooking the famous bay, the bitter northwest wind from the sea kept in continual motion the long curtains of the French windows, holding the room temperature down below 60 degrees Fahrenheit all day. Day after day, minutes of sunshine alternated with hours of cold, wind-driven rain.

NONE OF THE fashionable cafes were heated comfortably, and both native and tourist customers sat humped over like wet chickens. The view in Naples can be superb, indeed, but one can neither eat it nor warm oneself by it on a typical February day.

To me, "See Naples and die!" has always been, both winter and summer, less a compliment than a threat.

But one must admire the cheerfulness and fortitude of the bedraggled and uncounted underprivileged populace of Naples' slums. The six-story tenements that line the 10-foot cobbled streets that pour down from the 44 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Dec. 13, 1912—Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Stevens and Miss Roxand Stevens, Mrs. French and Lawrence French were the dinner guests on Sunday of Capt. and Mrs. J. A. Osgood.

Last Friday evening Mrs. S. C. Collins entertained a number of her friends at her home with "Five Hundred." Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dietz, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Lawless, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wright.

"HARDLY KNOWING if he was in this world or the next, he tottered to his door and opened it. There in the hall were 50 editors, all eager to buy his poem—because at last he had written something when he really had something to say."

I think the moral of that story is that inspired expression of any kind comes from the heart rather than the head. Persons who do things for the good of the world they live in gain such understanding of human nature and human problems that they always have lines to go with it. Soon he something to say."

20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Dec. 13, 1936—Edward E. Bacon, well-known lawyer and churchman, passed on at his home at 240 E. Alegría Ave. from pneumonia on Tuesday, Dec. 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller Jr., of 71 E. Montecito Ave., left Friday evening for Lansing, Mich., and New York. They will be gone about a month.

Around Washington By Edgar W. Hiestand Rep. 21st District

Why does the United States continue to survive and prosper when other nations rise to power and then crumble?

Possibly because our forefathers, in drafting the Constitution, recognized the existence of certain fundamental laws of human nature and were inspired to build the Constitution around them instead of trying to mold them to fit the Constitution.

Such false doctrines as "the divine right of kings," the "white supremacy" philosophy of imperialism Europe, and more recently the "superman" theory of Adolf Hitler could not endure because they ran contrary to the fundamental law that "each man is created equal."

Among us today, however, are persons who would try to create their own fundamental laws of government and economics, and who after doing so would try to justify a system of government based upon them. Strangely enough these people have won devotees, just as Hitler did with the superman theory which he tried to prove by the big lie technique.

SUCH ECONOMIC fallacies must be pointed out and rejected before they continue to gain support and bring our nation to the danger point where people would advocate them in preference to the basic laws encompassed by our Constitution.

In this and the next column I shall try to point out some of these fallacies and show that despite the support they have won, they are unworkable over an indefinite period. I shall try to prove, too, that those who espouse these fallacies are really the enemies of our free enterprise system—and our country.

The first economic fallacy: "Government has something to give the people which it does not have to take away from them."

The falsity of this assertion should be apparent immediately, yet the theory has picked up strength in two decades because some people see government does as cure-alls for their troubles.

On the contrary, government is never a source of goods. Everything that a nation produces must be produced by the people, and whatever the government gives to the people in the form of handouts must come first from the people themselves.

The second fallacy: "Job security can be guaranteed by management."

In our modern economy, all payrolls and all employment is made possible by customers—not by management nor by government. Customers provide the funds by which management continues to operate.

IT IS TRUE that the original funds come from stockholders, but unless stockholders continue to have confidence in management policies—and unless management continues to keep a breast of competition—customers will dwindle, sales will fall off, profits will vanish, and job cutbacks will be necessary.

Dear Sir:

I have lived in this town for over 26 years. When I first came here, the people were cultured and artistic.

I was horrified when they removed the quaint little station. But this Christmas our town has been crucified with pink trees in red and green kegs!

Well, as a citizen I will avoid the town until after Christmas, taking my business elsewhere.

The maternal grandmother is Mrs. Anita Barber of Pasadena. The paternal grandmother is Mrs. Helen Burke, 91 Auburn. The Burkes' other children are Pamela, 13, and Brian, 6.

The Richard H. Witters of Pasadena are the parents of a son, Stephen Lynn, born Nov. 30 at St. Luke Hospital, weighing 7 pounds 1 ounce. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Marion Nuzum of Altadena. The paternal grandparents are Mrs. Patricia H. Witter, 169 N. Mt. Trail, and F. A. Witter of Los Angeles. The paternal great grandmother is Mrs. Olive Hall of the Sierra Madre address.

Tennis Club Holds Annual Party Here

The Sierra Madre Tennis Club held its annual party Saturday evening in the Park House from 8 until midnight.

Theme for the evening was "Hard Times," and the club's Social Committee of Marcus Woodward, Eleanor Towles and Lorel Woo turned the inside of the Park House into a realistic replica of a hobo "jungle" over which Leroy Toms, president of the club, ruled as "King of the Hoboes."

Prizes for the games and dances were in keeping with the theme, and the committee was even accused of going on a scavenger hunt in order to get them. The best hobo team was Jim and Jeanne Holt.

Local Men Join Pasadena Firm

Two Sierra Madreans have entered the Instrument Division of the Hycon Mfg. Co. in Pasadena.

William F. Schmidt of 460 Canon Drive has joined the company as a machinist specialist and Charles W. Morris of 126 Miramonte as a machinist. Mr. Schmidt formerly was with A. O. Smith of Los Angeles and Mr. Morris was with Hughes Aircraft.

Never put off until tomorrow the friend who is willing to lend you money today.

R. H. Davidsons New Residents

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Davidson have recently taken up residency at 185 1/2 E. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Mr. Davidson, long-time resident of Sierra Madre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Davidson, 185 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., completed his studies at Notre Dame College before entering the U. S. Army to serve a two-year tour of duty. Seventeen months of this time was spent in Hawaii.

Currently he is associated with Monterey Oil Co. in Long Beach.

Annual Christmas Tea Set Saturday by AAUW Unit

Members of Pasadena Branch, American Association of University Women, and their children will meet next Saturday at 2:15 p.m. in the Woman's City Club for their annual Christmas tea.

Bob Baker, with the assistance of Alston Wood, will present his Marionettes, who are well known through their personal appearances and movie and TV productions.

Jack Boormans Visit Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boorman, 137 Olive, were guests at the Hotel Bamer during their stay in Mexico City.

Before returning home the Boormans will visit in Taxco and tropical Acapulco.

Star Holds Annual Party Monday

Members of the Sierra Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will have their regular monthly meeting and annual Christmas party next Monday night in the Masonic Temple.

Following the meeting, conducted by the worthy matron, Zoe Simpson, and worthy patron, Dick Simpson, the guests will adjourn for the holiday festivities.

Guests are reminded to bring a 50-cent gift—the men for a man and the ladies for a lady. Santa Claus will make an appearance to distribute the presents and the evening will hold many pleasant surprises for those in attendance.

Barbara Watson, chairman, and Edith Hunter, co-chairman, will be assisted by Jewel Sanders and Ruth and Carl Bischoff.

Virginia Jeanne Timmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Willis Timmons, 49 W. Orange Grove, exchanged nuptial vows with David Floyd Ludwick Jr. of Washington, D. C., presently residing in Los Angeles, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Floyd Ludwick Sr. of Fort Smith, Ark., Dec. 7 in the Chapel of All Saint's Episcopal Church. Dr. John F. Scott officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an off-white peau de soie bridal gown fashioned with a scalloped neckline and bodice of Alencon medallion lace embroidered with seed pearls. Appliques of lace on the full skirt flowed into the chapel train. Her finger-tip illusion veil was held by an heirloom lace crown worn by the bride's mother and sister, Janet (Mrs. David Winsor King), who was married last May. The bride carried a bouquet of cymbidiums with butterfly orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

Daryl Leslie Timmons was her sister's only attendant and wore a Christmas-red peau de soie waltz length frock. She carried a white fur muff with a spray of English holly. Her head was circled by holly and berries with a red bow and long streamers.

Frederick Pierpont Smith of Atlanta, Ga., was best man and the guests were seated by Merritt Manford Williams Jr. of Los Angeles. The bride is a graduate of Anokaia School for Girls and Stanford University. She attended Sweet Briar College in Virginia and the University of Oslo, Norway.

"Gingers," as the bride is known, has recently returned from Washington, D. C., having divided her time since graduation between her home and the nation's capitol as constituent secretary to Congressman Edgar W. Hiestand of the Pasadena area.

The groom is a graduate of Arkansas Tech and Department of Justice (FBI) Academy, Quantico, Va., and Washington, D. C.

Following the ceremony the couple flew to Acapulco and on their return will visit Taxco, Cuernavaca and Mexico City. They will return Christmas Eve.

Surprise invitations to the wedding were delivered by telegram to intimate friends of the couple gathered at a dinner party the previous evening at the Oak Knoll home of Mrs. Baird Marble and her daughter, Sally, long-time friend, companion traveler in Europe and classmate of the bride.

Announcements in the mail carry invitations to 350 guests to an after-Christmas reception honoring the newly-married couple at the Annandale Country Club in Pasadena.

Teen-Agers Yule Dance Planned by Mariners

Teen-agers are alerted for the semi-formal Christmas Dance scheduled for Dec. 22 and sponsored by the Mariners in Pritchard Hall at the Sierra Madre Congregational Church.

This "Mistle-Toe Mischief" has been planned specially to highlight the teen-agers' Christmas party season.

Alan Bond and his orchestra will provide music for dancing from 8 p.m. until midnight and will play requests.

Girls in attendance will have an opportunity to wear their pretty formals or party dresses and the boys will wear suits or slacks and coats.

The tickets are priced at $1.25 a couple or 75 cents stag and may be obtained by calling Louise Lauder at ELgin 5-3002 or Tod Draeger at ELgin 5-0127.

Boys are directed not to buy corsages since the dance committee has taken care of that item.

Call early for your tickets and make sure of being in attendance at this gala event.

Claudia Fritz Marks Birthday At Luncheon

Claudia Fritz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fritz, 476 Sturtevant, celebrated her 10th birthday anniversary last Saturday at a "Little Lady's Luncheon."

The Christmas theme was used in the table decorations and refreshments. Bingo, with the awarding of prizes, was enjoyed following the luncheon.

Guests included classmates of the guest of honor from Sierra Madre Elementary School and members of her Girl Scout Troop.

Also in attendance were her two older sisters, Mrs. James Wilder of Azusa and Mrs. Robert Brown of Pasadena, and her 4-month-old niece, Diane Wilder, who, attending her first party, attracted more attention than the hostess.

Cindy Stirton Repeats Nuptial Vows

Cindy Lou Stirton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al L. Stirton, 390 W. Highland, and Marcus Arnett Woodward IV, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Arnett Woodward III of 99 Suffolk, reaffirmed their marriage vows last Sunday in Sierra Madre Congregational Church with members of the families in attendance. The Rev. George Lindsay read the service.

The bride chose a blue taffeta afternoon dress, accented by a white orchid corsage, and carried a Bible.

The matron of honor, Nancy Pat West of Pasadena, was attired in a champagne afternoon dress and wore an orchid corsage.

Courtney Shropshire was best man.

A reception was held in the Woodward home following the reception.

Both young people are graduates of Sierra Madre Elementary School and Pasadena High School. They were secretly married last August in Yuma, Ariz.

If the speeder could see himself as others see him many highway accidents could be avoided.

Q. What modern necessity costs you less today than 20 years ago?

Reddy Kilowatt your electric servant

A. Electricity

"EVEN THOUGH the price of practically everything else has skyrocketed," explains Reddy Kilowatt, "a kilowatt hour of electricity in Southern California costs less today than it did 20 years ago." (Bigger bill? That's because you're using more and living better electrically.) Small wonder electricity is your biggest bargain in modern living.

LIVE BETTER—ELECTRICALLY

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Garden Notes . . .

'Living Christmas Trees' Offer Lasting Enjoyment

The "Living Christmas tree" idea embodies a very charming and at the same time practical idea for Christmas time, for you can have your Christmas tree and plant it, too.

At nurseries, pick an evergreen tree from the many varieties available growing in containers or in root ball form, enjoy it during the holidays in your home, and afterwards plant it outside where you can enjoy it for years.

By planting your Christmas tree, the California Association of Nurserymen suggests, you record this particular Christmas season, and in the Christmases to come you have an outdoor tree to decorate as you do the one indoors.

There are many varieties of pines, cedars, cypresses and junipers, which will make attractive living Christmas trees. The Deodar Cedar (Cedrus deodara) is an especially handsome, frosty-blue green evergreen, growing from 25 to 50 feet tall in conical shape. If this variety is too large for your yard, plant the smaller variety, Cedrus deodara compacta, which seldom grows higher than 25 feet.

OTHER EVERGREENS take several generations to become large, make fine yard trees, such as the Norway Spruce (Picea excelsa) and the Colorado Blue Spruce (Picea glauca). The Norway grows in a pyramid shape when young, making it especially fine in a container during Christmas. The Colorado features silvery gray green foliage, providing a handsome background for traditional Yuletide decorations.

Cypresses make attractive Christmas trees and adapt themselves well when planted.

ed in the inland areas of the state. Ellwood Cypress (Chamaecyparis lawsonia elwoodii), another Cypress growing to 12 feet, has handsome metallic silvery blue foliage.

The Arborvitae family provides some handsome choices for living Christmas trees. A perfect, cone-shaped dwarf tree is the Thuja orientalis Bonita, seldom exceeding 5 feet in height.

SIX FEET TALL at full growth, the Dwarf Evergreen Arborvitae (Thuja orientalis Berckmannii) is compact and broadly conical with bright golden foliage. It will grow anywhere in the state except in the hottest desert sections.

Prompt Care Is Antidote For Rheumatic Fever

By Roy O. Gilbert, M.D.
Los Angeles County Health Officer

The incidence of rheumatic fever has declined in recent years as a result of less crowded housing conditions and, more particularly, because doctors are better able to control streptococcal infections than was formerly possible prior to the discovery of penicillin and the sulfa drugs.

Some authorities estimate, however, that 9 or 10 per cent of all children have had rheumatic fever by the age of 15. On the credit side of the ledger is the fact that only a relatively small number of these have experienced heart damage to a degree that even slightly affects their health.

In general, the age group with the highest incidence of rheumatic fever is that of two to five years, but the disease continues to strike during childhood and throughout adolescence. Its onset is relatively rare after age 20.

IN SOME RESPECTS, children who suffer heart damage from rheumatic fever are less fortunate than are those youngsters crippled by certain other diseases or by accidents, for the crippling that results from rheumatic fever is unseen.

The victims of this disorder may find it difficult to participate in normal work or play, and may therefore invite the derision of playmates, or criticism from teachers and parents.

Often, the only discernible evidence of rheumatic fever is a sudden disinterest on the part of a child for his school work, or for play activity. Listlessness of this nature in any child is a sign of illness and calls for a visit to the family physician.

The cause of rheumatic fever is not precisely known, but the disease seems to be associated with streptococcal infections. Some physicians feel that rheumatic fever is an allergic reaction to the products of these bacteria.

AT ANY RATE, the usual course of events is a severe sore throat or tonsillitis, which may last three to five days. Following the disappearance of the sore throat by a period of from 10 days to as long as four weeks, the symptoms of rheumatic fever may follow. Most often, these symptoms include fever and swollen or painful joints. Indeed, pain in the extremities is the most common single symptom of rheumatic fever in a child.

Both the prevention and powerful means medicine control of rheumatic fever has to combat the disease.

THIS CAN BE achieved by prompt medical care and, in some instances, through prolonged prophylactic treatment.

Although many cases of rheumatic fever may be prevented and its damage minimized, it is unfortunately true that perhaps 34 per cent of all cases occur without any recognizable streptococcal infections. When symptoms of illness are not sufficiently severe to be observed by parents or teachers and the children do not complain, the damage to hearts from rheumatic fever, under these conditions, continues to occur despite the fact that the disease is not detected.

The exciting Ford Fairlane 500 Club Victoria (above)—over 17 feet long—is one of two new, bigger Ford sizes this year.

If you think it looks new... wait till you drive it!

...For there's where Ford's newness really pays off
...in melting mountains...in smoothing the bumps
...in straightening the curves

You can see that Ford's longer, lower Sculptured Look makes other cars look downright old-fashioned. But the part you can't see—the new "Inner Ford"—is what shows its stuff when you drive a Ford. It's revolutionary from the wheels up! And it feels it.

Ford's wider frame lets you sit sweet and low. It lets Ford hug the roads because of its lower center of gravity. And Ford's new front suspension, rear springs and new easy handling are part of the scheme to make you think every road is cloud-smooth.

The magic touch of the new Ford power plants makes mountains disappear. What looks like uphill feels like downhill. You get this surging power in a wide choice of new Silver Anniversary V-8 engines. Or you can choose Ford's new, more economical Mileage Maker Six, the most powerful Six ever offered in the low-price field.

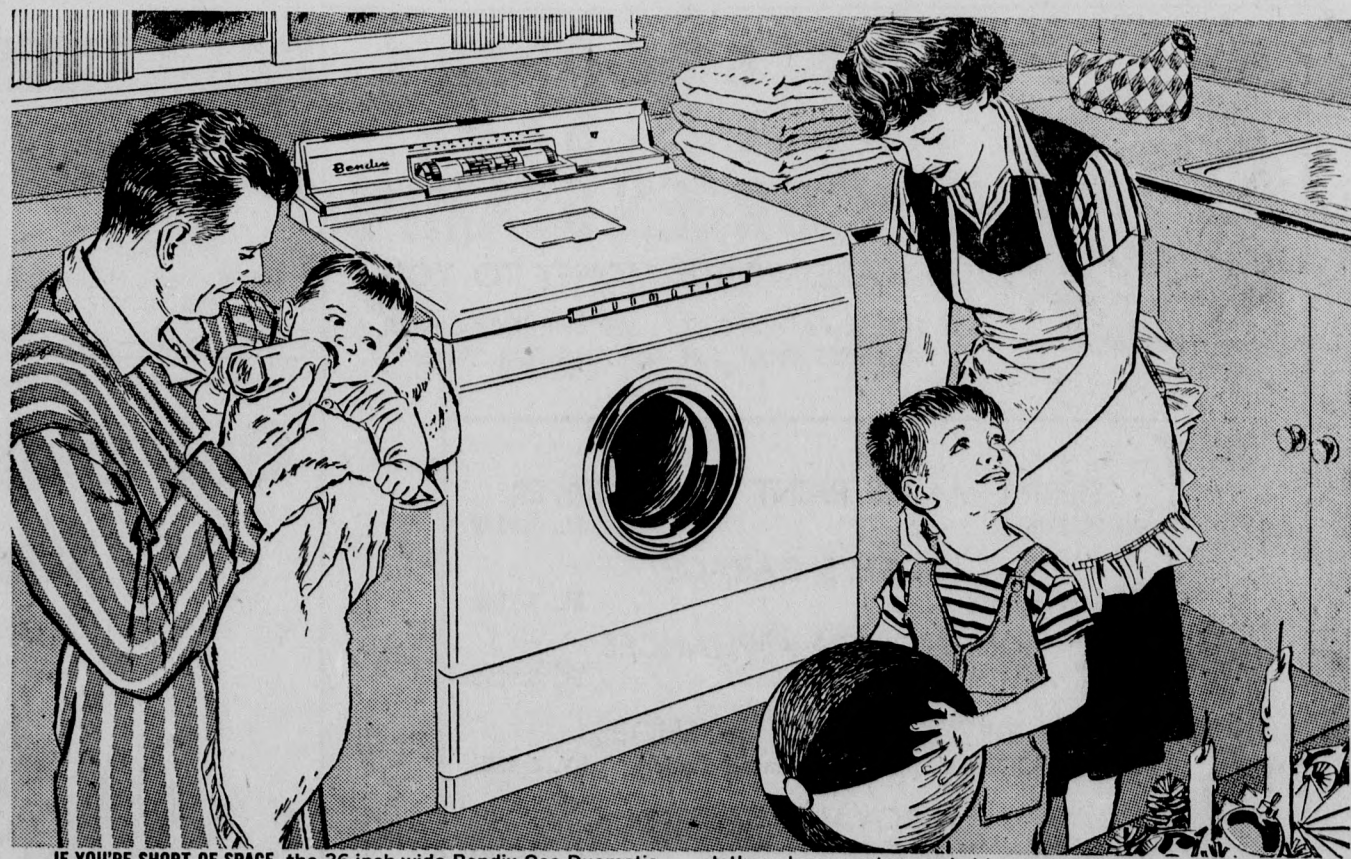

There's magic in Ford's price tag, too! You won't believe this big new Ford is still priced Ford-low. But it is. Come in and test the magic of the new kind of Ford. It's a real "Wizard of Ah-h-h-h's!"

Action Test the New Kind of FORD

IF YOU'RE SHORT OF SPACE, the 36-inch-wide Bendix Gas Duomatic is an ideal appliance for you. This combination washer—Gas clothes dryer washes and dries clothes automatically in one appliance...in one continuous operation...in less than one hour.

THE GIFT THAT KEEPS ON GIVING an automatic Gas clothes dryer!

1 HAVE MORE FREE TIME!
An automatic Gas clothes dryer lets you do your laundering whenever you wish. You can do some each day (keeping you caught up). Washing ceases to be a tiring Monday production.

2 ENJOY NICER LAUNDRY!
Gas-dried towels are as soft and fluffy as when new. Corduroys and jeans come out smooth and ready to wear. You can even do spreads, blankets, etc.—save on cleaning and laundry bills.

3 CUTS YOUR IRONING!
Sheets come out smooth enough to be folded without ironing! Taking laundry out damp-dry, eliminates sprinkling. All pieces iron like magic.

4 PROVIDES SUNSHINE!
You always have perfect drying weather, with a Gas clothes dryer. It lets you wash day or night, rain or shine. Dries cottons in minutes.

5 OFFERS REAL SAVINGS!
An automatic Gas clothes dryer costs less installed. Dryer prices start at $169.95. A Gas clothes dryer costs only about 1/4 as much to use—averages 35¢ a month for a typical family.

GAS dries clothes faster and costs less!

CHOOSE FROM THESE GAS CLOTHES DRYERS:
ABC, Barton, Bendix, Blackstone, Caloric, Easy, Hamilton, Kenmore, Maytag, Norge, RCA-Whirlpool, Roper, Speed Queen or Wedgewood. See your dealer or Gas Co.

'Brave Cowboy' Is Story Of a Rebel Against Society

As writers go, Edward Abbey is young in years (under 30), but he is as mature as a Maugham or a Marquand in his perceptions of human behavior; he has the skilled hand of a Marquand, too, in his plotting and sense of the inevitable, and the loving eye of a Bernard De Voto when he is describing the Western landscape.

All of this talent makes for a very fine story in "The Brave Cowboy" (Dodd, Mead, $3.75). Abbey's second novel, described on the dust-jacket as "An Old Story in a New Time." In a way, it is old—Jack Burns, his central character, is something of a Damon and Paul Bondi is something of a Pythias—but where Bondi's rebel spirit is a realistic one, which adjusts itself to things as they are, Jack Burns is an anachronistic Don Quixote in this jet-propelled age.

Anachronistic or not, Jack Burns is a rare type these days, and the world needs more of him. His creed is a simple one—a friend is a friend, no matter what the circumstances and no sacrifice is too great for him.

When Bondi, a war veteran and university instructor, refuses to register under a new Selective Service law and is thrown into jail as a draft evader, Burns quite literally rides to the rescue.

He engineers and executes a jail-break, after getting himself locked up in the same jail. But Bondi won't come with him because his idealism is realistic enough to know that a price must be paid for being a nonconformist. He is willing to pay the price—some years in a federal prison.

Burns escapes and the search for him through the mountains of northern New Mexico by a sheriff's posse equipped with helicopters, airplanes, radio-equipped jeeps and walkie-talkies, is a fine allegory of a material society hunting down the atavistic rebel in its midst.

He almost escapes—but in the end it is another aspect of materialism, a modern juggernaut in the service of creature comfort, that takes his life where the man-hunters with their electronic aids failed while dealing with the rebel on his own terms and in his natural setting.

There is no sense of anticlimax anywhere in this tightly-written work. It builds slowly but surely to its pre-destined end—and holds you every step of the way.

I think that Wallace Stegner, who has written a great deal about the West with the social historian's eye always in focus, would be proud to have written this book.—William K. Keith

Other new books at Sierra Madre Library are: Non-fiction: Guides to Straight Thinking, Chase; Approaches to God, Martain; An Historian's Approach to Religion, Toynbee; New Pattern for a Tired World, Bromfield; How to Read Better and Faster, Lewis; Exploring the Deep Pacific, Raitt.

FIRE FLAMES
By James Heasley

At Christmas time there is a great temptation to decorate with highly combustible materials. These range from natural materials, such as Christmas tree, cotton fluff and paper to artificial things, such as plastics and the synthetic materials.

Illumination of these materials by having hot light bulbs among them and the tendency to add makeshift wiring results in fire hazards. Even the electric train that father enjoys can make sparks to ignite cotton and such. So set it up apart from dangerous combustibles.

For extensive wiring for extra display, have the wiring done by an electrician who is licensed. If you do not have a fire extinguisher handy, be certain to have a good garden hose—attached—that can be used in emergency. A small fire can be extinguished easily, but call the fire department even though you are making progress.

Most frequent victims of clothing fires are children and elderly people. Children's clothing catches fire when they are playing with matches or get too close to fires. Elderly people's clothing catches fire when they use stoves carelessly, warm themselves at fireplaces and radiant heaters or fall asleep while smoking. Much of the clothes worn at Yuletide parties are fluffy and loose fitting, adding to the danger.

Few, if any, of the firemen will leave town on Christmas and we are hoping that we do not have a fire call. However, the willingness to respond is real. Don't fail to call early if fire starts.

THIS COMING Saturday evening is the date of the Firemen's Dance at the local Woman's Club. Many will be there. To those who enjoy room to dance, we advise getting there early when the band starts to play at 9 p.m. Later, the crowd reaches a crowding proportion.

From the Christmas Fund, we expect to fill and deliver to the children on Christmas Eve 1,200 stockings filled with goodies. All children under 12 are invited to come to the City Park at 7 p.m. sharp, when Santa will arrive aboard one of the fire trucks.

TO AID HUNGARIANS

Protestant churches all over the country will be called upon to raise $325,000 before Christmas to aid Hungarian refugees in Austria, according to an announcement this week by Dr. Norris Wilson, executive director of Church World Service.

Arts and Letters Holiday Party

Members of the National Society of Arts and Letters met last Tuesday evening in the Pasadena home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Hill, 1177 Hillcrest Dr., to celebrate "the true spirit of Christmas."

Mrs. Inez Ryan, writer and poet, was chairman of the affair which included a Biblical Pageant, in costume, with Fred Bonetti reading the script.

Members in attendance brought jams and jellies as Christmas donations to the Children's Home Society of California.

Oh, the wonderful Christmas season is upon us again. Is there anything quite as nostalgic as the smell of Christmas? The spicy aroma of fruit cakes and plum puddings, gingerbread men fresh from the oven, the tantalizing odor of popcorn ready for stringing, even the sweet smell of peppermint candy all mixed together with the woody smell of pine trees. What fun it would be to be able to go out in the woods through the pine needles and choose your own tree instead of going to the corner and buying it by the foot.

THE ROBERT W. GRANGE family of 3320 Mesa Loa Lane is having a December of birthday parties in addition to preparing for Christmas. Todd, their 4-year-old son, entertained last Friday at a birthday party which included seven guests and the four Grange children. A little later in the month, Jock will celebrate his 10th birthday with a party. Mrs. Grange didn't know if she would manage it right on his birthday inasmuch as it comes on the 23d, but she said he wouldn't be passed by.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL Siechert of 1175 Mesita Road entertained last Saturday night at their fifth annual window decorating dinner party. They have five huge plate glass windows in their family room and the guests work in teams of four with supplies furnished to decorate them to their own taste. Mrs. Siechert says that they have some wonderful displays, and well they should as they included some very talented guests in their party. Among the guests were Messrs. and Mesdames John Griffith, Harold Zook, Robert Baugh, William Baugh, George Otte, Don Cahoon, Ken Christianson, Elmer Hubbard, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Morrison, and Mrs. Richard Fox. (Mr. Fox was rushed to the hospital last week with an emergency appendectomy, and the doctors wouldn't spring him in time for the party).

I TALKED to Mrs. F. Wayne Furstenberger of 3126 Meyer Loa Lane and she told me that they had gone to a fabulous party at the new Disneyland Hotel last week. She also said that some of the ladies up her way had gotten together and decided that they, too, should get out and ride their horses, so they have formed a little weekly riding group which includes Mesdames William Nash, Larry Dietzel, E. E. Kinkade, Jack Milne and Jack Willis. She said that this group was by no means exclusive and they would welcome anyone who would care to join them.

THE E. MARSHALL Harries of 1540 Sierra Madre Villa had a wonderful time up Arrowhead way last weekend. They went up with three other couples.

MRS. J. H. BIGGAR of 1805 Mesita Road gave a birthday dinner for her husband, John, last Tuesday. She had it all set up as a surprise, but due to some mixup in meetings she was forced to tell him to make sure that he would be there to enjoy it. Among the guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Harold Zook, R. L. Fox, John Davidson, John Griffith, Paul Siechert, Edson Biggar and Howard Biggar.

MRS. EDWARD HALPERIN of 1490 Old House Road entertained at a holiday bridge luncheon last Tuesday. Among the guests were Mesdames Howard Baker, J. W. Goldstein, L. L. Evers, John C. Herber, James Byers, Nell Fallon and Edward Kufner.

FRIENDS OF Mr. and Mrs. William Friedrich of 3300 Barhite are looking forward to their Christmas open house Sunday night with great anticipation. They expect 24 couples from 5 to 7, but unless I miss my guess the party will go on long after the appointed deadline.

City Officials to Judge
Christmas Contest

It won't be long now before outside holiday decorations will be operating in the Upper Ranch and Riviera to compete in the fourth annual outside display contest sponsored by the Northeast Pasadena Property Owners Association.

Residents are reminded the evening of Dec. 20 has been designated as the time for the judging. The association contest committee, George A. Schlueter, Brooks G. La Boyteaux, Russell D. Kraus and Donald H. Munro, headed by the president, C. Don Hays, is happy to announce this year's judges are Supervisor and Mrs. Warren Dorn, Pasadena's new Mayor and Mrs. Seth Miller and Ramsay Lawson, president of the Pasadena Junior Chamber of Commerce.

As in the past, Shopping Bag has generously donated 30 turkeys to be awarded as zone prizes.

Everyone is encouraged to plan some sort of outside display, no matter how simple, for his home. In past years, the area has given much pleasure to the Ranch residents as well as people who live in surrounding communities who have come to the Upper Ranch and Riviera during the holidays, to enjoy the decorations.

Prizes will be awarded in five categories—the most beautiful, fantasy, religious, humorous and the best use of lights—as well as a sweepstakes prize.

A prize will be given to each residence in the winning zone. To compete for this award, any 20 homes or more, continuously adjacent or facing each other, must be decorated—remember, every home in the group must be decorated in order to qualify as a group display. The large lighted Christmas trees so familiar in past years will be erected soon at the Sierra Madre Blvd. entrances to the Ranch.

Ranchettes.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Johnson Jr., 1260 Rexford, are the parents of a son, Stephen West, born Nov. 17 at St. Luke Hospital, weighing 9 pounds, 13 ounces. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Aaron J. West of Arcadia. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Johnson of Pasadena.

A daughter, Marian Philomena, was born to Mr. and Mrs. John E. Logston, 1315 Medford, Nov. 17 at St. Luke Hospital, weighing 7 pounds, 8 ounces. The maternal grandmother is Mrs. Ellen Dunham of Monrovia. The paternal grandmother is Mrs. Agnes C. Logston, also of Monrovia. The new arrival has three brothers, John, 5; Lawrence, 3, and Jim, 1½.

A fourth child, Doreen Rose, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dumas, 1210 Rexford, Nov. 18 at St. Luke Hospital, weighing 6 pounds, 6 ounces. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bennett of Montrose. The paternal grandparents are Mrs. Ernest S. Dumas of Brockton, Mass., and the late Mr. Dumas. "Dori" has a sister, Debbie, 5, and two brothers, Randy, 3, and Don, 1½.

Cub Pack 379
Makes Awards

Cub Scout Pack 379, sponsored by Eugene Field PTA, made a number of awards at the last pack meeting of the year, and introduced Bob Parrish into Webelos, highest Cub rank.

Stephen Horne won a silver arrow in the Wolf rank. The Bear badge went to Donald Bosworth and David Olwin and silver arrows to Tim Marshall, Marvin Herriott and Paul Jacobs.

The Lion badge and gold arrow were awarded to Chad Hunter.

One-year pins were awarded to Gary Alpert, Eric Johnson and Stephen Horne.

Two-year pins went to Tim Marshall, Paul Jacobs and Lauren DuPuy.

Three-year pins went to Chad Hunter, Bob Parrish, Jim Ross and Woody Haut.

Field Staff
Honored at Luncheon

Teachers of Eugene Field School were guests of the PTA executive board at a Christmas luncheon today, with members of the board preparing and serving the food.

Mrs. Pete Ludwig was chairman of the annual party. Mothersingers presented a program of Christmas music.

School will be dismissed for the holidays on Wednesday, after the traditional room parties when Santa pays a visit to each class. Children have decorated trees distributed by the PTA. Special refreshments will be served by room mothers.

Alpha Phis
Hold Recent Holiday Meet

Pasadena area alumnae of Alpha Phi sorority met last Tuesday evening in the Pasadena home of Mrs. Willis Stork, 1586 Oakdale, for their annual Christmas party.

Highlight of the occasion was an informal talk by Rev. Samuel Leslie Hall, curate of St. Edmund's Episcopal Church in San Marino.

The singing of Christmas carols was led by Mrs. Maria Pierce.

Following a short business meeting, presided over by the president, Mrs. Robert McVann, holiday cookies and coffee were served.

Mrs. Stork was assisted by Mrs. William C. Shifflet, Mrs. Hilton R. Green and Mrs. Wesley Gardner.

All members in attendance continued the group's custom of bringing gifts for the girls living at Rosemary Cottage.

Tri Deltas
Plan Annual Holiday Party

Invitations are in the mail for the Delta Delta Delta Junior Alumnae annual Christmas cocktail party which is scheduled for next Sunday in the Linda Vista home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rose, 95 El Circulo Drive, from 5 to 7 p.m.

This festive affair is arranged to compliment husbands and friends of the group and is one of the year's most-looked-forward-to events.

A lavish Christmas decor will augment the holiday spirit at the party to which Mrs. John B. Simpson, president of the group, extends a cordial welcome to all Tri Deltas in the area. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. William J. Bird at Hillcrest 7-3969.

Mrs. Bird will be assisted with party arrangements by Mrs. John D. Sessions, Mrs. Scott Biddle, Mrs. Donald J. Reish, Mrs. Richard Brice, Mrs. John B. Jones, Mrs. Jerome A. Burley and Miss Janice Powell.

Wrens Meet
At Calmers

Mrs. John Calmer was hostess at her Shadow Grove Road home the other night for the annual Christmas meeting of the Ranch Wrens.

Her co-hostesses were Mrs. Joe Cummings and Mrs. William Cameron. Gifts were exchanged.

Members presented Christmas ideas as the program for the meeting. Eggnog, fruitcake and coffee were served during the evening.

GREETED AT THE DOOR by Mrs. Elmer F. Morton are Mrs. J. B. Atkinson, center, and Mrs. Lewis J. Ross as the Country Cousins of Casa Colina prepare for their Christmas benefit—the Jingle Bell Supper

Dance—Saturday night in the Wilmer L. Heater home, 291 W. Foothill, Arcadia. Proceeds will go to the Casa Colina Convalescent Home for Crippled Children in China.

H. E. Bakers
Host Holiday
Get-Together

The Howard E. Baker home, 1335 N. Michillinda, was the scene of a festive holiday cocktail party last Saturday evening.

Among those guests greeted by the glittering ornaments and sparkling white of Christmas decorations were Mr. and Mrs. R. Spivey, Mr. and Mrs. William Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Loy and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Young.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus L. Pruitt, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Halperin, Mr. and Mrs. R. Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Krugman, Mr. and Mrs. James Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth O'Connor.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Goldstein, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kiehn, Mr. and Mrs. John Herber, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Evers, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Gittinger and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Asher.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Burford, Mr. and Mrs. James Byers, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Fallon, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Garrett, Miss Louise Evans, Mrs. Virginia Rohan, Mrs. Gracie Henry, Mrs. Lalla Stanley, Miss Louise Bowlin, Mrs. Edna Bowlin and Sig Gans.

Discovery of Bill
Brings Insomnia
To Honest Boy

An honest little sixth-grade boy is holding a sizeable bill lost by someone in front of the Woman's Club-house late in the afternoon of Dec. 5.

K. D. Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Ford of 425 N. Michillinda, found the bill after leaving a Christmas party given by Miss Virginia Gollatz for her sixth-grade ballroom dancing class.

According to Miss Gollatz, the boy brought the bill, which was folded into a small square, into the clubhouse. She then called back the children and parents who were leaving, but none claimed ownership.

"I hope you can find the owner," the worried youth told her. "That's a lot to lose."

Mrs. Ford says her son didn't sleep all night after finding the bill for fear it might be someone's Christmas money.

Let's set aside Dec. 22 for the Snowball. This is a dance sponsored by the Mariners of Ship 3, the Sea Nymph. It will be held at the Pritchard Hall in the Congregational Church. The music will be furnished by Allen Bond's band.

This is the time to show off that new formal that you have been dying to wear, BUT dressy dresses are fine, too. Kids, this dance is for us. From what I hear it's going to be really great. The tickets are $1.25 a couple and 75 cents stag. If you would like tickets, call Louise Lauder at ELgin 5-1903 or Toddy Draeger at ELgin 5-0127.

TOMORROW NIGHT is the night. It's the night of Wilson's big Christmas Dance, the Twilight Swirl. Tomorrow is the last day to get tickets at the bookstore for 40 cents. Tickets can be gotten at the door but the price is 50 cents per person.

Nancy Grant, who is our Entertainment Commissioner, has lined up the Rhythm Kings to supply the music. Meredith Mitchell, who is president of 10th Y Teens, is in charge of the decorations, which will be in blue and silver.

ELAINE EASTWOOD had a party last Friday night. It started out to be a slumber party with just Carolyn Dalsen, Gretchen Schulz, Lynn Eichelberger, Judy Vogel, Ditty Dittner, Prissy Dickson and Elaine. But even before all the girls had gotten there, the guys started to turn up. Gary Palmer, John Werbelow, Keith Olwin, Bucky Bucklen, Jim Bonzi, Ronnie Rossiter and Kent Eichner stayed until about 11:30. They danced, ate and had a ball.

TONIGHT is the night that the parents will be able to visit our new and again. The Glee Clubs, Orchestra and speech classes will present the Christmas program. There will be the traditional Christmas music and Dobry's Nativity. The program will begin at 7:45.

TOURS HALTED

Guided tours of the California Institute of Technology campus have been suspended during final examinations and Christmas vacation, but will be resumed Jan. 10, the school announced last week.

AND NOW for the dessert—we have some real talent in our midst—Chuck Hicks has just signed a movie contract. He threatens to become another Elvis Presley (without the wiggle). Toddy Draeger and her group just made a recording, which will be released soon.

Hi, Marshall Guys and Dolls! Get your antennas up, 'cause I'm going to do a lot of sending. Hope you're receiving. Hope to give you a lot of chit-chat and keep you up to date on what's cooking.

LAST FRIDAY was a big day at Marshall, but it was only the beginning of a busy week-end season.

On Friday afternoon the Marshalls saw the "Glenn Miller Story." The movie was a reward for selling over $2,000 worth of Football Circus tickets a few weeks ago, thereby making Marshall's quota.

Then, on Friday evening everyone had a wonderful time at the "Kandy Kane Kapers," the senior dance which was held in the Marshall gym. Among those in attendance and who had a real ball were:

ON WEDNESDAY, Dec. 5, tryouts were held in the auditorium for our annual Talent Show, which will be held next year.

A good number of those trying out are from our Riviera, Hastings and Sierra Madre area. For dancing: Laurie Strieter, Chris Crawford, Judy Mortensen, Sally Keller and Kella Pratt; pantomime and dance: Marsha McMan; songs: Toddy Draeger, Louise Farrow, Joyce Caldwell; plays: Janice Burnles and Joyce Caldwell.

A Christmas tree and a buffet table adorned with gilded and decorated manzanita branch carried out the holiday spirit for the December party Saturday night of the Hastings Ranch Dance Club.

Host couples for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Butt, Mr. and Mrs. David Zinsmeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Whitely.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Don Alsop, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Brown, Mr. and Mrs. William Caldecott, Mr. and Mrs. Don Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cummins, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. Draper Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hurtig, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Blair Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. George Lenney, Mr. and Mrs. Al Pruitt, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Steffens, Mr. and Mrs. Will Stewart.

Birthday Party
Is Big Surprise
To The Guests

Georgeanne Amthor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Amthor of 3306 Barhite, celebrated her eleventh birthday Dec. 8 with a most unusual party.

The guests were asked to come as they were at 9 a.m. and some outstanding garbs were in evidence. They all had breakfast and the entertainment of the morning was the decorating of gingerbread men by each of the guests.

Among the guests were Martini Arden, Sandra Biagetti, Helene Civerola, Susan Coleman, Jacquelyn De-Zee, Rita Eng, Constance Emme, Estella Garcia, Joan Garrettson, Mary Ann Gingrich, Mary Gail Good, Marilyn Grassie, Elena Gutierrez, Diane Hougland and Virginia Kennelly.

Also Cheryl Knudson, Virginia Licon, Ann Michener, Theresa Miller, Bonnie Nicastro, Nancy Noland, Mary O'Laughlin, Rita Ottosen, Christine Read, Dorothy Stelzer, Elaine Stube, Susan Clark and Jackie Paquette.

REFUGEE RELIEF

Supplies and services valued at more than $220,000 have been sent by the American Friends Service Committee to Hungarian refugees in Vienna.

Yule Benefit Planned
By Country Cousins

Gold, red and silver are the colors that will greet the Country Cousins of Casa Colina and their friends at their Christmas benefit, the Jingle Bell Supper Dance, Saturday night at the Wilmer L. Beaters, 291 W. Foothill Blvd., Arcadia.

As is the case with all projects of the Country Cousins, the receipts will help support and maintain the Casa Colina Convalescent Home for Crippled Children in China.

Guests will proceed past banks of colorful poinsettias to the Golden Christmas Tree Room for cocktails, according to Mrs. Thomas Harris, benefit chairman, and Mrs. Warren C. Smith, who is in charge of the decorations.

DURING AND after a leisurely buffet supper, Joe Mo-shay and his orchestra will play for dancing under the "stars" in the Starlight Room.

Old friends can get together for quiet talks in the spacious Golden Wreath Room, or in the library where a cranberry and popcorn tree will be the one traditional Christmas touch.

Early response to invitations was received from the following: Messrs. and Mmes. Malcolm Harris, Emmett Aiken, Charles H. Belt Jr., Richard Graham, Fred G. Runyon, Willard G. DeGroot, Bernard Tumilty, A. H. Bell, Charles Terry, Paul Howe, Irvine H. Nye, Edmund M. Harrison, Melville Caines and G. S. Follansbee Jr.

ALSO ROBERT H. SPREEN, J. S. Lafless, Spencer Honig, Frank E. Hamilton, Jack Rosenberg, Paul Case, Thomas Lynch, Oliver Northcott, David Goode, W. H. Schoonmaker, Donald R. Sessions, G. Russell Moir, David Chase, Ransom Chase and Edward Tuttle.

Also, C. Leon East, Kenneth Lieber, James Pulliam, C. P. Robertson, Peyton Harriman, Sydney Wall, Donald L. Mapson, C. L. Hascroft, Llewellyn Bixby, Paul Elmquist, Robert Fluor, Mrs. Albert C. King and Mrs. Emory Wright.

COUNTRY COUSINS and their husbands are: Messrs. and Mmes. J. B. Atkinson, John W. Bernard, Samuel F. Bowley, Glenn Boldeman, Theodore J. Broadhead, H. Sentman Bryson, Robert A. Busby, Edward L. Butterworth, William W. Cline, Willard E. Dunlap, W. E. Dunlap Jr., Thomas Harris, Wilmer L. Heater, David P.

Compton Enacts Richmond
As Arlington Plays Grant

By Charles Ayres

Having been buffeted, shoved and squeezed through many a stadium crowd and generally finding all the action at the opposite end of the field from me, it was a welcome relief and pleasure to view the Junior Rose Bowl game from the comparatively safe confines of the press box.

Instead of feet in my back and a head in my line of vision, there was the whole wide expanse of the stadium below, with a view unlimited even by the usual smog. There was enough desk space for both elbows, game program, statistic sheets and a picnic lunch.

Between thoughts of how I could manage to reserve that same spot New Year's Day, I made a few notes about what was going on.

THE PRE-GAME ceremonies included 13 bands on the field at the same time and two of them stood out—Yuba City was clad in scotch kilts and Mt. San Antonio in conksin caps.

Arlington State was representing the East but made it plain they were there to defend the honor of the South even though Compton had geography on their side. Arlington's trombone section was bedecked with Confederate flags.

Compton made its first mistake at the toss of the coin. They won and chose to receive, giving Arlington the choice of goal to defend. You guessed it—they defended the south goal. The ball was kicked off amid the screech of a rebel yell and the blare of a bugle sound.

Hicks, Kendall Jones, Wendell Jones, Ted W. McKey, William J. Moran, Harlan Nissen, Herbert B. Pratt, Emory J. Ross, Lewis J. Ross, Warren C. Smith, Wilford Zinsmeyer, Kurt Von Bauer, Dr. and Mrs. Elmer F. Morton and Mr. and Mrs. Kinzie Miller.

Mrs. Stoner
Slated New Guild Head

Mrs. J. Howard Stoner is slated to be elected president of the Guild of Trinity Presbyterian Church at the December luncheon of the women's organization Tuesday at the church.

Dr. Immanuel Gittel, who works as a missionary to the Hebrew people, is scheduled to be the guest speaker. Dr. Gittel, sponsored by the Presbyterian Board, will discuss his work among the Hebrew people of Los Angeles. He also will demonstrate a special Jewish ceremony.

Other officers on the slate for the election are Mrs. Merle Miller, Mrs. Donovan Davis, Mrs. Merritt Thompson, Mrs. Warner Hamlen, Mrs. Elvin Beard and Mrs. Norman Kramer.

Guild members report great success with their Trinity Fair last month.

Demo Club Will Elect Tonight

Rabbi Charles Steckel, of the Foothill Jewish Community Center of Sierra Madre, will be guest speaker tonight at a meeting of the Hastings Ranch Democratic Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McKenna, 1180 Coronet. Officers for 1957 will be elected.

Rabbi Steckel, who left Hungary eight years ago, was in charge of the agency which, in close affiliation with the Red Cross, organized relief for refugees from many Middle Eastern countries. His talk will present facts of the Hungarian nation.

Chapel Choir Hastings
Makes Debut School Menu
At Trinity

The new Chapel Choir of Trinity Presbyterian Church made its debut Dec. 2—World-Wide Communion Sunday—at the 9:30 worship service.

The new choir is composed of young people of the Senior High Westminster Fellowship at Trinity, and is under the direction of Robert C. Bridges. The group had been preparing for this event for over two months.

The Chapel Choir will furnish the special music for the 9:30 service each Sunday, augmenting the Chancel Choir, which sings for the 11 a.m. service. Both choirs, plus a Children's Choir, will sing at the special Family Worship Service planned for Christmas Eve.

Members of the Chapel Choir are: Bob Babcock, Patsey Beyer, Sue Buttane, Georgia Henry, Josie Hicks, Nancy Hicks, Dennis Holman, Sharon Nouskajian, Gary Oliphant and Dave Turner, all of Pasadena; Jim Bywater of Arcadia; Helen de Clercq, Sue de Clercq, Sonja Lindquist and Mary Suman of Sierra Madre; Ann and Ed Franke of Monrovia, and Jim Hayden of Glendora.

Mrs. Beattie
Honor Guest
At Luncheon

Mrs. Richard Beattie, who, with her family, is moving to Sacramento this week, was honor guest at a bridge luncheon last week given by Mrs. Russell Pooler and Mrs. Russell Stubbs at the Stubbs' Shadow Grove home.

Mrs. Beattie was given a jeweled sweater as a going-away present. Sitting down for luncheon and bridge with Mrs. Stubbs, Mrs. Pooler and Mrs. Beattie were Mrs. John Calmer, Mrs. Draper Jennings, Mrs. Dick Hubbell, Mrs. William Caldecott, Mrs. Dunbar Burdick, Mrs. Horace Ray, Mrs. Lee Peterson, Mrs. Martin Smith and Mrs. E. S. Gregory.

Jardineras
Enjoys Buffet
At Lindmans

Some 50 Las Jardineras members and their husbands enjoyed a holiday cocktail and buffet Saturday night at the Hampton Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lindman.

The committee on arrangements for the party were Mrs. Ogden Boden, Mrs. John Calmer, Mrs. E. S. Gregory and Mrs. Lindman.

PRUNING PROGRAM
Experts from the Pacific Rose Society and the Los Angeles City Recreation and Park Department will pinpoint proper shear-welding techniques when the seventh annual Exposition Park Rose Pruning Demonstration is staged at the 7-acre municipal facility from 1 to 4 p.m. on Jan. 5.

CRANBERRY SALADS
ADD ZEST TO MEALS

You'll want an assortment of cranberry salads to add zest to winter meals. The sparkling flavor of this fruit is ever so right with the more hearty meat dishes served during the cooler months.

You'll find combinations to make with fresh cranberries during their season. And then, there are wonderful salads to make with canned cranberry products any time of the year.

CRANBERRY RELISH SALAD

2 C. fresh cranberries
1 orange
1 pkg. orange flavored gelatin
1/2 C. sugar
1 C. boiling water
1/2 C. thinly sliced celery
1/2 C. diced red apple
1/2 C. chopped nut meats

Sort and wash cranberries. Quarter orange and remove seeds. Grind cranberries and orange together, using medium blade of food chopper. Let stand 30 min. to extract juice. Drain and save the juice. Dissolve gelatin and sugar in boiling water. Add 1/2 C. of the juice drained from cranberry mixture. Chill until partly set. Fold in cranberry-orange mixture, celery, apples and nut meats. Put into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold onto crisp lettuce. Serve with mayonnaise thinned with a little whipped cream.

CRANBERRY-CREAM CHEESE MOLDED SALAD

1 pkg. lemon flavored gelatin
1 C. hot cranberry juice cocktail
1 C. cold cranberry juice cocktail
1 7-oz. pkg. cream cheese
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 C. well-drained crushed pineapple
1/2 C. finely chopped celery
1/2 C. heavy cream, whipped
Dissolve gelatin in hot cranberry juice cocktail. Add cold cranberry cocktail. Add cream cheese and beat until smooth. Chill until partially set. Fold in remaining ingredients. Pour into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold onto crisp salad greens for serving.
